Canuc Welcomes Peter Mackay as a Special Advisor to the Company

Canuc Resources Corporation (“Canuc” or the “Company”) (TSX-V: CDA) is pleased to welcome the Honourable Peter Mackay as a special advisor to the Company.

Peter MacKay PC, QC (Privy Council and Queen’s Counsel) is currently serving as a strategic advisor to both Deloitte Canada and McInnes Cooper LLP. He is a former Crown Prosecutor and has served as Canada’s Federal Minister of Justice (Attorney General). Mr. MacKay’s practice focuses on government enforcement proceedings and compliance matters, and he has provided strategic advice to Canadian companies doing business globally as well as to international companies doing business in Canada.

Mr. MacKay served in the Parliament of Canada for many years and in a ministerial post in the Canadian government for nine years after the Conservative Party formed a government in 2006. Mr. MacKay has served as Canada’s Attorney General and Minister of Justice, a position to which he was appointed in 2013. Prior to this post, he served as the Minister of National Defence for six years and had held joint cabinet positions as Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister for the Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency.

“We are very pleased to be able to seek input from Mr. Mackay who is an experienced international statesman. Mr. Mackay’s insights in relation to security matters and matters of compliance, corporate governance and international affairs will benefit the Company greatly as we advance initiatives with our assets in Mexico, the USA and Canada,” stated Chris Berlet, CEO of Canuc.

Neither the TSX Venture Exchange nor its Regulation Service Provider (as that term is defined in the policies of the TSX Venture Exchange) accepts responsibility for the accuracy of this release.
